Why would you recommend/not recommend this course?

Yes.

A V.G. course

Role playing was great, lots of time to discuss and ask questions in small groups.

Being prepared for an emergency is something we lack in our education so this course comes highly recommended for content. Role playing - instructors knowledge

The course was well organized. The practice scenarios give training and appreciation for real life emergency events.

Very practiced. Much better than amls!! ND relevant.

Good role playing. Real life scenarios. Very beneficial for practicing any restricted activity. More confidence and knowledge.

Yes. I would recommend it.

I like the repetition (i.e. of golden rules)

Chart was very helpful. Instructors were very knowledgeable & brought great clinical experience in addition to course material. Content was clear, concise. Changing instructor kept course content dynamic not depending on lecture style learning.

Great overview & repetition & resources. Brings light to possible problems & rates of problems. Instructors were great - very personable & knowledgeable.

Very practical & hands on

Would recommend because of small course size, lots of opportunity to roll play

Good in depth

Recommend because gives us more info to be able to safely administer IVs & injection

What would you change about this course?

Add rate of pushes (fast push, 1 ml/min) for clarity

Food was great! More hot H2O.

Nothing

Nothing

More clinical experience examples perhaps as part of the slides

Scenarios could have been better, more explanation

Ab. Required content spent a lot of time on injection therapy section which applies to a small percentage of claim - interesting but perhaps shorter.

Maybe develop more algorithms for certain conditions.

Better set schedule - could have planned my days better if I'd known we were out early.

We spent a lot less time than was set out. For only 1.5 days the price is a lot. There should be a shorter version for re-certification.

Add a couple blank pages for notes in the book. Any medication used for an intervention possible add a page in the book that describes dose to use, concentration, admin rate.

Course notes & chart should match up. Roll play scenarios should be more specific about the case details to better replicate situation. Some inconsistency in information. More involved roll playing & in an IV clinic setting would really help with roll play quality. Incorporation of IV emerg with actual IV insertion & monitoring.

A short refresher course would be better

Font size on handouts and chart - difficult to read for people with low vision issues

A summary course giving us our hours in O3/chelation/neural/prolo/prp/etc.
Prolo - Neural Therapy - PRP
Advanced IV Therapeutics - use of botanicals etc! That would be great IV - newer substances used from experience NDs ie. botanicals, alpha lipoic acid, etc. I was trained in '98 in IV and am not confident to use some of these substances before hearing about other's experiences.
Injection course.
Prolozone therapy.
